The iGeneration

Baby Boomers. Generation X. The "Me" Generation.

Since the turn of the millennium, people have speculated what this generation's mark would become. They waited anxiously to see what this new onslaught of kids would make of the decade, but when attempting to name the generation as it grew older, it seemed that the world was stuck.

But with the technological advancements made in a few short years and the transitions they've caused in today's society – new ways of communication, the Internet, and industrial improvements – I think, as a member of it, that it's safe to call this generation the "iGeneration."

The past eighteen years have been filled with their fair share of good times and bad, but no matter the circumstances, this generation has found a way to remain true to the values we've always held that make us who we are while embracing the new ways of life we have faced. We are not afraid of anything that may come our way. We identify ourselves with the talents and skills we have, making us a generation of individuals, thus identifying us the "iGeneration."

As such, we individuals have much to offer the world, and it's up to all of us to find our rightful place in society, to make our marks wherever we may go. By standing true and strong to ourselves, perhaps we can preserve what we have come to represent – individualism and originality.

To the iGeneration: We have so much to live for. It's time we start doing it, our way.
Let's make the world a better place, and in return,
allow the world to make us better.

~Brentney ("Bee") M. Wilson, Class of 2010

"This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not be false to any man."

-William Shakespeare's Hamlet, Act I, scene III

Linda Herman

Mrs. Herman taught for 39 years, 29 at Tecumseh. Her favorite class was whatever she was teaching at that moment. Her favorite school holiday was Christmas break. She advised Student Counsel several times throughout her career, and her favorite Spirit Week day was College/University Day. Mrs. Herman minored in Vocal/Choral Music and was inspired by her grandma who taught in a one-room schoolhouse.

Janice Wilson

Madame Wilson taught for 36 years, with 35 at Tecumseh. Mrs. Wilson's favorite school holiday was Homecoming. With a major in French and a minor in English, she enjoyed all of her French classes, but the strangest was Creative Writing. She advised Club Français (French Club), la Société Honoraire de Français (French Honors Society), and was a Class advisor.

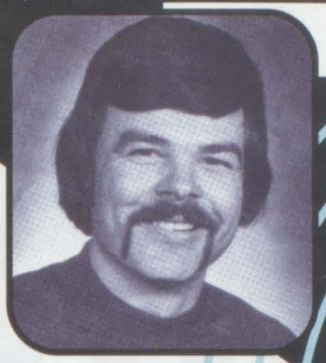
Myrna Williams

Mrs. Willliams worked in schools for 27 years, 16 as a counselor at Tecumseh. She also loved the Christmas break each year. English 9, Business Communications, and Business Writing were her favorite classes to teach, but she also enjoyed advising the Class of 2009, Key Club, and National Honor Society. The strangest class Mrs. Williams ever taught was substituting for a Band Director for a day.

Debra Talcott

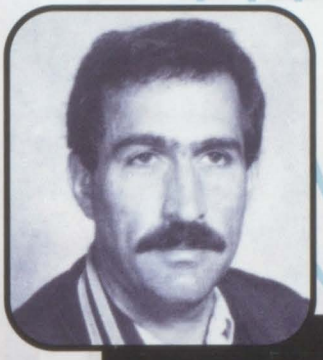
Mrs. Talcott taught adults for 3 years and 28 years for young people. She said she has mellowed through the years as a teacher and loved the Christmas holiday break. Her favorite class was English 9 Honors – they participate in discussions! She coached track as well as cheer leading and advised the junior class.

Gone...



Robert Ondrovick

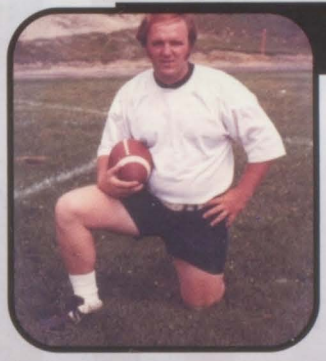
Mr. Ondrovick taught for 38-1/2 years, all at Tecumseh, and Advanced Woodworking and IQP-9 were his favorite classes. In addition to teaching and advising the Pep Club, he coached varsity football, JV & varsity baseball, and middle school football. He enjoyed the winter holiday for the students' involvement in community projects like Toys for Tots.



Steve Pike

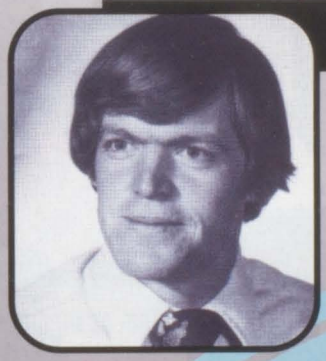
We could tell you, but then we would have to kill you. Nothing personal.

TOP SECRET



Raymond Schmidt

Mr. Schmidt worked at schools for 38 years. In addition to advising the Class of '79, he coached football and middle school wrestling. His favorite class was 8th grade Woodshop, and he used to teach Electronics. He, too, softened through the years, and summer was Mr. Schmidt's favorite holiday.



Ronald Frenzen

Mr. Frenzen taught for 40 years, 35 at Tecumseh High School. His favorite classes were Ceramics and Sculpture, and his least favorite was Yearbook. He advised the Art Club and National Art Honor Society and coached high school and middle school wrestling and freshman baseball. His favorite school holiday was Homecoming.

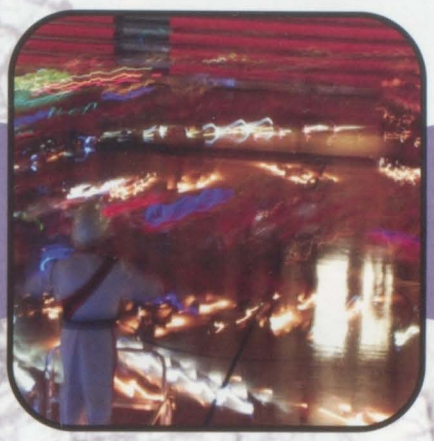
Symphonic Band

Over 90 students from all bands combined as one unit and took three exceptional pieces to Festival in March. They received a Division 1 rating, playing "Hosts of Freedom," "Hebrides Suites," and "The Lord of the Rings." The band continued their success at the MSBOA State Festival where they received a Division 2 rating. Next year promises to be just as successful as the band will once again split into two groups.



Concert Orchestra

The Orchestra, made up of 60+ freshmen and sophomores, was combined as well. Their hard work paid off with a Division 2 rating at the MSBOA District Festival. The orchestra performed at many community functions throughout the year, including events at the Tecumseh Center for the Arts and a Halloween Costume Concert with orchestra members of other grades.

Marching Band

The Shooting Stars performed a John Williams-themed show featuring the music from Jurassic Park, Indiana Jones, Harry Potter, and Hook. At the conclusion of marching season, the band performed their full show in the gym in the dark, decked out in glow sticks. They look forward to performing next year in (hopefully) new uniforms with more participants.

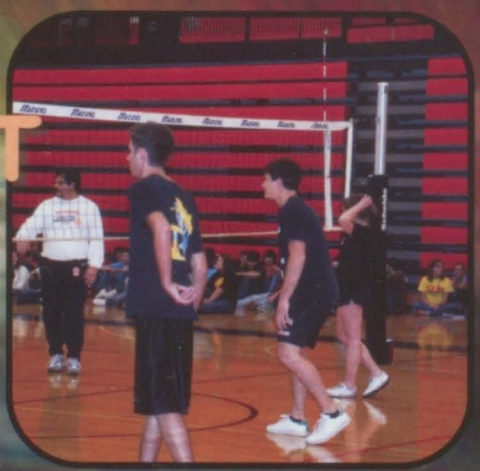
Turkey Tournament



In Mrs. Mossburg's advanced gym classes, the students create teams that play one another to determine the winner in each class. During Seminar, each winner plays the other classes to decide which team plays the teachers. Everyone comes to watch the final showdown. It's so much fun, and everyone loves it. Congratulations to the students! They beat the teachers once again.

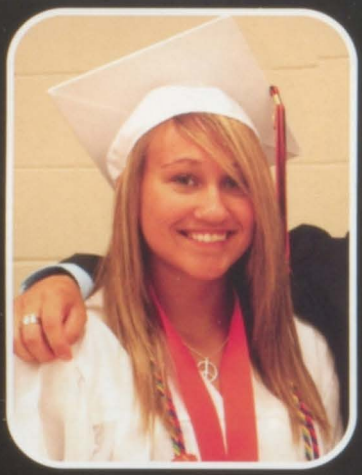
Graduation



"Wow. This is a day I never thought would come, the day I would be standing in front of hundreds of people giving a speech. You know, I heard a statistic once that people's number one fear was public speaking, and that number two was death. I just thought that was an interesting statistic.

But not to distract from today. Look where we are. This has been a day we have all been dreaming about ever since we fully understood what going to school entailed. And here we are in what society has told us every graduate must wear: an over-sized sack, a board on our head, and a tassel that is more cat toy than accessory. I'm not really sure why educated people agreed to wear this, but I guess the tradition stuck somewhere.

But we have all made it, thanks to the help of many people. Whether it was your parents making sure you got up every morning, a teacher that went out of their way to ensure you were successful, a coach that just wouldn't let you compete if you were failing, or through our friends who were always there for us. We all have received help and motivation from various people along the way.

We made it through the ups and downs, the homework assignments, standardized tests, Mr. Kessler's door on time, and the bomb threats.

I think we all remember the one bomb threat in the middle of winter that forced us to stand outside for an hour without our coats. I just remember thinking, wouldn't an open flame be nice right about now. But I guess our I.D.s provided that extra element of protection, even if they didn't keep us warm.

But we have all worked hard to get here and it is an accomplishment that shouldn't be understated. We should all feel truly proud of ourselves for our level of commitment and dedication. So now, even though our journey together is ending, a whole new one is beginning. We are all going down separate paths from here, and will all experience different kinds of success, but we can never forget that we are all a part of that class of 2012.

Congratulations all, we finally did it."

This year's Girls Cross Country team captains were Annie Dunn and Katelyn Staelgraeve. "We were really close knit because we spent all summer with each other growing close. We bonded really well, and we get along pretty well. Our work ethic was really strong, and we had confidence; the hard work and all the mileage logged in the summer contributed a lot. One big thing that separated us from other teams is that we had Greene who was there since the first day of practice with the end of the season in mind. He pushed us hard because he knew the progress that would need to be made. He was a major part to the team," explains Erica Steuwe regarding the team's success.

This was an amazing year for the members of the Varsity Girls Swim Team. They performed well in meets, finishing their season 9-4 overall, 4-1 in the SEC. The ladies recorded an historic 2nd place finish in the SEC, defeating rival Chelsea for the first time in THS history. A strong freshman crowd and the depth of returning team members helped them in all their successes. Several school records were broken this season by freshman Rachel Waite and the freshman relays. The All-State performing Medley relay also broke the school record with an outstanding performance at SEC's and States. The team looks forward to a strong future.

The 2010 softball team did very well under captains Catie Kaliszuk, Katelyn Dykas, and Chelsea Hutchinson. Coach Kristalyn Musselman had this to say about the team: "The 2010 season was a huge success, and the team exceeded all expectations set forth by the coaches. We really came together and played as a team when it mattered. There were several girls who stepped up their game when it meant the most!"

We were very excited about our track and field season this year. We had many newcomers to complement our experienced runners who returned. Tyler Bryan and Jake Kelley emerged as strong sprinters last year and returned to our line-up this year. Leading the distance events were Leon Miller, Austin See, Nolan Reynolds, Patrick McAran, and Ben Robertson. Also, we had a large contingent of throwers led by Tom Coleman, Travis Hyder, Jacob Goudy, and Caleb Hughes.

Despite many injuries and grueling practices, the girls had a great season. The team pulled together and encouraged each other. Many of us would not have been able to make it through the workouts if our teammates had not continually supported us. In freezing rain and blazing sun, we were always there for each other, and that is why we had such an incredible time together.

Thank Yous

Thanks go to Eric Roberts for his tireless dedication to producing the best yearbook each year; to contributing photographers Ann Peake, Tracy Lorraine, and Ali Wice for providing such outstanding action shots for our pages; to Nora Guiney of Walsworth Publishing for all her help and motivation; and to the yearbook staff, especially Ashlea Phenicie, for sticking to an impossible task. We couldn't do this without all of you!

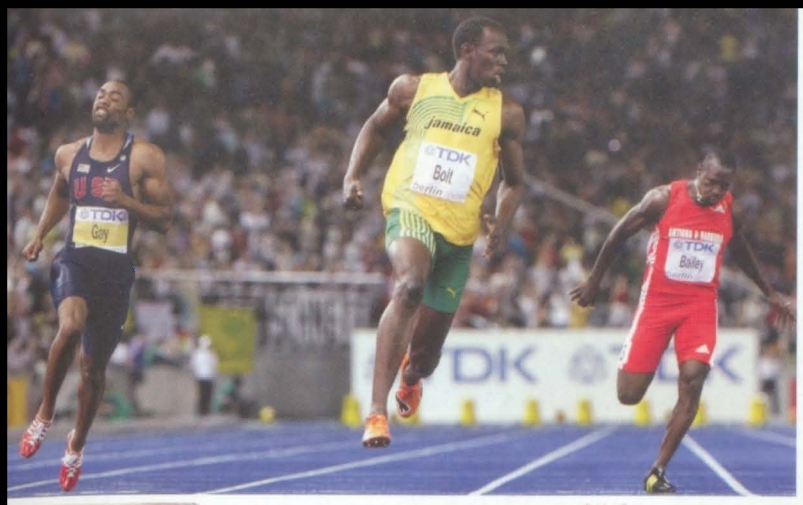
ARMY BASE MASSACRE ►
An army psychiatrist at Fort Hood, Texas, allegedly opened fire on base, killing 13 people and wounding 30 before being wounded. Investigators were trying to determine whether Major Nidal Malik Hasan, an American, had terrorist ties.

ABLE AND UNEMPLOYED ▲
There were signs the nation was climbing out of the recession, but job hunters could not tell. U.S. unemployment reached 10.2%, the highest since 1983. The unemployment rate for teens reached a record of 27.6%.

YANKEES BACK ON TOP ►
The New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Phillies in six games to win the 2009 World Series, and claim their record 27th championship. Outfielder Hideki Matsui hit .615 in the series and became the first Japanese player to win World Series MVP.



BOLT INTO THE RECORD BOOK ◄
Already the fastest man in the world, Jamaican sprinter Usain Bolt won the 100 and 200 meters at the 2009 World Track Championships in Berlin, shattering the world records he already held. Bolt's time of 9.58 seconds in the 100 was more than a tenth of a second faster than the previous record he set in the 2008 Olympics.

SPREADING GLEE ▼
Glee, Fox's new comedy about the show choir group at an Ohio high school, became a critical success and was nominated for numerous awards. The show's musical format gained a loyal audience, led to frequent song downloads from the show's musical numbers and even to new glee clubs at some high schools.

BALLOON BOY HOAX ▲
The parents who claimed their 6-year-old son was carried away by a flying saucer-shaped balloon served some jail time. The plot by Richard and Mayumi Heene was revealed by their son, Falcon, during an interview when he said the family "did this for the show." The Heenes, who had appeared on Wife Swap, apparently were hoping the incident would lead to another reality TV show.

SAFE LANDING ▲
Airport security was looked at again after a Nigerian man tried to blow up his Northwest Airlines flight just before landing in Detroit on Christmas Day. Umar Farouk Abdulmutallab, 23, was badly burned when he lit a small explosive device while sitting in his seat. He was held by passengers and crew until the plane landed.

FLU VACCINE SCARCITY ▲
While the government asked the public to take the H1N1 influenza seriously, vaccine shortages occurred because it could not be made fast enough. Then people had to decide whether to get the "regular" and the H1N1 vaccines – available in shot and nasal mist forms.

TWEETING THE NEWS ▲
Many news stories were beginning to appear on social websites like Twitter. Some events closed to traditional media outlets, such as Iran's government-controlled election, were reported to the world via Twitter users.

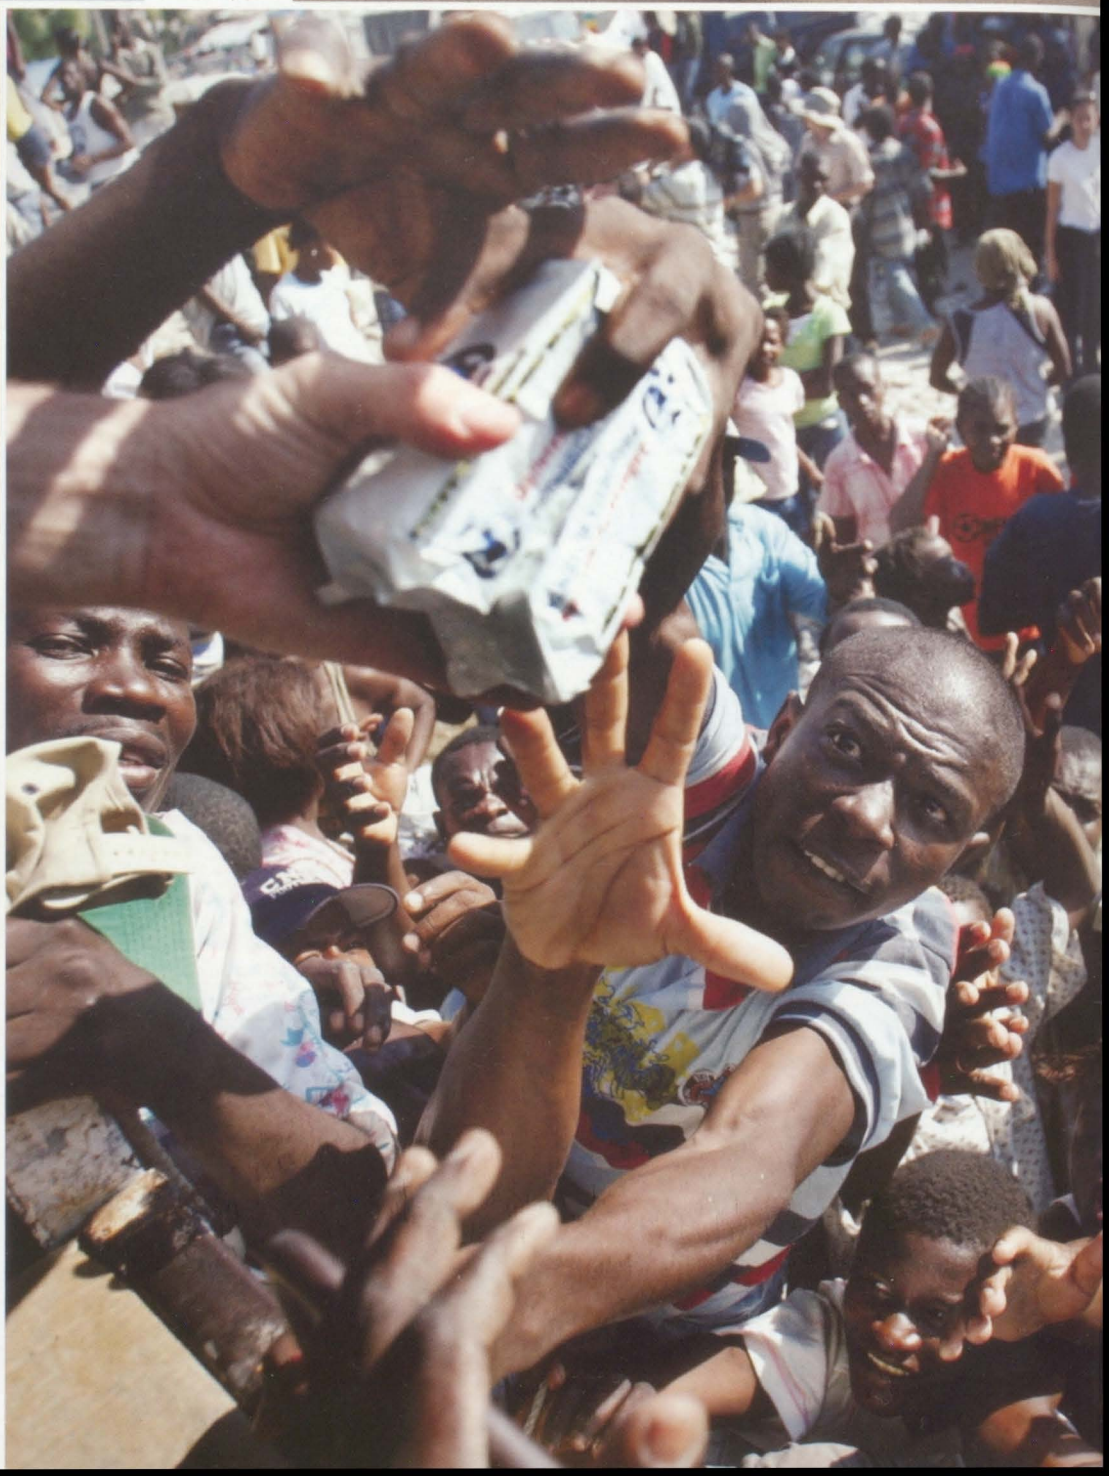
WAR ON TERROR ►
About 68,000 U.S. troops were stationed in Afghanistan to fight the Taliban as President Barack Obama planned to send an additional 30,000 troops. He also stated a goal of bringing troops home beginning July 2011.

ENDING ON A HIGH NOTE ▼
The story of plane crash survivors who end up on a mysterious island, Lost, finally came to an end during its sixth and last season. The cult classic, which at its peak became one of the most-watched shows on TV, once again became one of the "events" of the TV season by wrapping up all its mysteries.



DISASTER BEYOND BELIEF ►
A powerful earthquake, measuring 7.0 on the Richter scale, hit just outside Port-au-Prince, the capital city of island nation Haiti. More than 217,000 people were killed, nearly 400,000 lost their homes and were left scrambling for aid and several of the country's historic landmarks were destroyed.

EVERYONE GOES WIRELESS ◄
Most people were now carrying wireless phones. And the gadgets could do more things, as products like Apple's iPhone allowed users to place calls, take pictures, access email and the internet, keep schedules and much more.

HARRY POTTER STILL STRONG ▼
The Harry Potter series continued stronger than ever through the movies. The film based on the sixth book, Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince, made nearly $1 billion worldwide. Plans were made to split the story of the seventh and final book into two movies.

AWKWARD MOMENT ▼
When country star Taylor Swift won Best Female Video at the MTV Video Music Awards, rapper Kanye West grabbed the microphone and protested that Beyonce should have won the award. West's upstaging of Swift was met with boos. When Beyonce won Video of the Year later in the show, she called Swift back on stage for the two ladies to share a moment.

SOME THINGS CHANGE ▲
Showing how far hip-hop has come, the late rapper Tupac Shakur's song, "Changes," was included as one of the 12 songs on the Vatican's official MySpace Music playlist when it was released, alongside Mozart.

THE BEST EVER? ◄
Roger Federer won the 15th Grand Slam singles title of his career, when he defeated Andy Roddick in a five-set classic at Wimbledon. It was the most Grand Slam titles of any men's tennis player in history. Federer then added to his record in the new year when he won the Australian Open for the fourth time.

TOUCH THE IPAD ►
Apple once again created buzz with its latest product roll-out, this time releasing its version of a tablet computer with the iPad. Essentially functioning the same as an iPod Touch, the iPad primarily allowed users to access the internet, watch video and listen to audio.
