Book Drops are Open for Material Returns

Book Drops

The library's two outdoor Book Drops will remain open during the building's closure. Please note: it will take some time before materials are safely checked in.

Do you still have an item checked out from the Southborough Library? Even though the building is still closed due to the pandemic, our Book Drops are open 24/7 for the return of materials.

There are two library book drops to the left of the downstairs parking lot entrance. They are both large and bright blue in color. They are outside adjacent to the trash receptacles.

Items returned in the drops will not be checked in right away. Staff are only emptying the book drops on Monday and Thursday mornings. Emptied material is then quarantined in the Eaton Room for a 72-hour period before being checked in and reshelfed.

Reminder: All leased material will be returned until we reopen. Please do not use book drops for: donations puzzles
