The meeting was called to order at 7:00pm at Wadleigh Memorial Library.

Present. “There was no need for words, for there are times when words can only hint at what the heart would wish to say.” Jen Hansen and Deb Faucher, Co-Chairs; Chris Costantino, Kim Paul, Mike Tule, Wayne Hardy. Sarah Sandhage, excused.

Minutes: “It was easy to be moral when that was the way you felt anyway. The hard bit about morality was making yourself feel the opposite of what you really felt.”
Approved unanimously on a motion by Chris, seconded by Kim.

Treasurer’s Report: “It was a pointed sigh, as sighs sometimes are, not one cast into the air to evaporate, but one calculated to descend, precisely and with great effect, on a target.”
Approved as presented. The green cells indicate changes in the budget due to the default budget.

Facilities/Collections: “There is plenty of work for love to do.”

- 2 dead trees on 91 Nashua St. side of property – which will be left in place for the time being.

- Meeting room use – discussion about possible review of our meeting room policy. A political campaign requested a room to use for making phone calls on their personal phones. There was some concern this might be an inappropriate use of our rooms.
• Michelle has been checking with other libraries and the NH Municipal Association. The trustees felt that this was an appropriate use of the meeting room.
• There was an accident at the crosswalk between a car and a pedestrian. No injuries and resulting in a discussion about the location of this crosswalk within the driveway from the library. Joel Trafford will bring this issue to the next Joint Loss Committee meeting.
