The World in Your Library

KFL is once again partnering with the Maine Humanities Council for The World in Your Library. It's easier than ever to stay on top of the news; worldwide events are at our fingertips, in real time. But if you want to get a grip on the bigger pictures, it can be harder than ever to find coverage that explores international issues in depth. Communities are increasingly turning to their libraries to gain this kind of information perspective and insight into foreign policy issues, and The World in Your Library can help meet this growing demand.

The World In Your Library

N.F. Murray will discuss her recent publication, Tis I Mr. Styx and Mr. Styx and Company.

Readers will join Mr. Styx as he ventures through the Southwest and Pacific Coast, as he manages an office building and acts as a travel agent and math tutor.

On Wednesday, September 21 at 6:00 PM York Officer ,Jamie Rooney, will talk about her first book, a memoir, at Kennebunk Free Library.

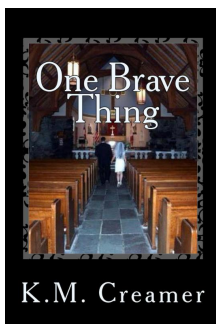

Black to Blue is the story of a little girl forced to grow up surrounded by extreme substance abuse, physical abuse and poverty.

"I grew up in the roach infested projects of Great Brook Valley in Worcester, Massachusetts. I bought drugs for my mother. I survived severe poverty because I was able to adapt to find resolutions to problems. When we didn't have food, I found some. When we didn't have clothes or shoes, I stole them."

Jamie's journey led her to a career in law enforcement, dedicating her life to helping those less fortunate. She has been committed to working as an officer for over 16 years and works with children and teens in the York community creating programs to help those less fortunate. Her life's mission is to encourage and support young people struggling with difficult situations. She is committed to showing youth no matter how difficult their circumstances may be they can do anything with their life.

This book will inspire the young and old. It will help men and women struggling with difficult circumstances to overcome their past. Young adults will find inspiration and courage to push through difficult situations in order to succeed. This book is for everyone.

Karen Maffeo Creamer of Wells, Maine has just published her first novel, One Brave Thing. She will discuss her novel on Monday, September 26 at 6:00 PM.

Her book is about a young woman whose dating life starts off on the wrong foot. Bad luck and naïve choices complicate situations and make her relationships so much harder. Bebe wants to get married someday so she forges ahead, adapting her approach, learning from her mistakes, and overcoming obstacles to reach her goals.

Lemonade for the Library

Young Kennebunk patrons, Haley and Nicholas, decided to open a lemonade stand on Saturday, August 27 to raise money for the Library. Their hard work raised $25.00 which they donated to their much-loved Library. Thank you so much Haley and Nicholas!

Friends of KFL

Don't forget that the Friends of KFL purchase several of our museum passes. Check out passes to The Seashore Trolley Museum and Strawberry Banke before they close for the season.

The Seashore Trolley Museum is open to Columbus Day and then Saturdays and Sundays in October.

Strawberry Banke is open through October.

Learn more about joining the Friends and about the museum passes they offer.

The next Friends meeting will be held on Saturday, September 24 at 10:00 AM. Everyone is welcome!

Harvest Fest Book Sale

The Friends will also hold a book sale during Harvest Fest on Saturday, October 1 from 8:30 AM - 1:00 PM. Donations will be accepted through Wednesday, September 28 and then again after the book sale on Monday, October 3.

"Discovering Italy"

Our September exhibition is "Discovering Italy", the photographs of Enrico Della Pietra depicting a journey across Italy, visiting some of its lesser-known landmarks and fascinating sites.

The public is invited to view the exhibit during regular Library hours when the gallery is not in use for library programs.

Enrico Della Pietra is an Italian photographer, born and raised in Naples, Italy who has recently relocated to Maine. His photography skills were acquired through courses at Accademia Creativa in Naples, Italy. He spent over 15 years of his photographic development embracing the European and Italian styles of capturing street photography and human character. This pathway led him to participate at the 2014

Magnum Photos Masterclass under the expert hand of photographer Patrick Zachmann. He has received several awards, such as the MIFA (Moscow International Photo Award) and the Gran Prix de la Photographie in Paris, France.

Enrico has exhibited his works in Art Festivals throughout the United States, a country which continues to offer inspiration for his art. Now, as a new resident to the Southern Maine area, his enduring fascination with the historic and dominant Biddeford Mill propelled him to launch his photography studio right within its walls. Enrico is anxious to engage with Mainers, who have been the source of much encouragement and motivation throughout the past decade.
