Classic Innovations

Blissfield Sets a Standard in Education

We were a classic high school; we had known each other most of our lives; several teachers had been on staff for twenty or more years; the sporting events were an importance out of the fifties; yearbooks had been published for seventy - five years; there had been 110 graduating classes and forty years of exchange students. Our classic view continued. We didn't want to change.

But change we did. And with change comes growth.

The growth and changes in administration and curriculum allowed us to adapt to the modern standards of traditional adding instant history to curriculum.

These innovations coupled with determination and strength presented the Blissfield sign of excellence stronger than ever. From the first undefeated regular season basketball team in the school's history to over 70% of graduating seniors going on to a higher form of education, success in both athletics and academics gave confidence to students once fearful of change.

SPORTS

The J.V. cheerleading squad and Royal mascot appear anxious and ready to ride in the homecoming parade.

Within every season, within every sport, there are athletes who put in hours and hours on end of soul searching practice and then they go home and do their homework. The athletes at B.H.S. put in the hours both on the field or on the court as well as in the classroom. They prepare themselves for a future with both athletics and academic triumphs.

Desire and commitment helped the teams break records and reach goals. It was a year of pains, disappointment, joy, and elation that was felt by all athletes in all seasons.

GOALS RENEW SPIRIT...

Striving to make a difference, the cheerleaders set goals to increase school spirit and enthusiasm for athletics. Their roles as morale boosters contributed to the successful seasons of the teams.

Intensity Inspires A Memorable Finale

From the weightlifting at 6 A.M. to the beginning of football camp and two-a-days, there was an attitude of commitment and a definite desire to be successful. There wasn't a Friday in the fall that the Royals felt they were unprepared after a week of constantly pushing themselves to the limit.

This was never more evident than in the last game of the year against Erie Mason, when they came from behind to win 28-22 in overtime.

The Team That Refused to Lose

Returning seniors added experience and depth as the girls won consecutive LCAA and District titles. Season-long intensity led the 1990 girls varsity basketball team to a 21-3 record.

After a one point loss to league foe, Hudson, the Royals won their next eleven games.

Coach Kohler said, "This was an incredible season. The team just refused to lose."

The team was led by their MVP, Debi Brink, with all-league and all-county first team selections. Becky Martinez was selected for first team all-league and second team Lenawee county honors. Tara Aldrich received honorable mention all-league and all-county honors.

Determination Leads to Royal Success

"This year's team was a great example of what can happen when a group of unselfish, hardworking, enthusiastic people have a common goal. It was a great season." Coach Gary Brink praised the girls' efforts to make this season a successful one. Determination and team support led the girls to a winning 17-2 season, earning the top spot in the league.

The JV football team played the entire year with enthusiasm and a great attitude. With a lack of sophomores in skilled positions, the freshmen were pressed into action. The inexperienced team played well and never gave up.

Our team had some downfalls, but we had some excellent individual wrestlers.
-MVP, Steve Rose

Early Proof for Youth

The wrestling team finished the last few weeks of the season by falling short of league title contention. Being hampered by decreased enrollment, and a fairly young team, having only three seniors finishing the season, there was a lot of inexperience and learning that had to be done. Coach Babbitt termed the year as a time to rebuild the team. They did very well overcoming adversity by trophying the Morenci and Napoleon Invationals and sending two wrestlers to the state finals in Battle Creek. Ryan Fisher was the first Royal in seven years to win Regionals and Steve Rose took sixth place in the state competition.

First Undefeated Regular Season Team

The varsity team compiled an outstanding regular season record of 20-0. They were the first undefeated team in the history of our school. The Royals were led by all-stater, Jason Burkholder and honorable mention all-stater, Andrew Gitersonke. With an abundance of talent on the team, winning came easy for first year coach, John Vandecave.

The season ended abruptly in the second game of districts when Hudson bumped Blissfield leaving them with a 21-1 season.

JV's Carry On Tradition

The 1991 season for the JV baseball team brought them a first place spot in the league. Their 9-2 league record led the Royals to the successful overall record of 14-6. The Royals finished strong at the end of the year by winning nine out of eleven of their games by a margin slightly less than two runs, whereas they averaged winning by a powerful margin of five runs.

Frosh Fight Flurries

The freshmen baseball team struggled this year, not only against the teams they played, but against a more formidable foe- the weather. About one-third of the season had to be cancelled due to the elements. The team's overall season record was 6-8 after an early and powerful winning streak of five out of eight games. The team also beat league rival, Erie Mason, in both appearances. During the season the team played with both intensity and poise to keep every game close. "This was the best fielding team I've ever coached," said Coach Masters.

Early Blues End in Royalty

LCAA and District Champs Finish 26-9

The Royals start against Tecumseh left the team and loyal fans in a daze. As time passed, they improved their communication and began to work together.

With the help of a strong pitching staff, and good hitters they were able to concentrate on defensive skills and prepare for the end of the season. The fourteen game winning streak started by winning the Erie Mason Invitational, LCAA title and going on to win the Districts. Placing seven members on the league team and six on the all-district team gave the Royals good state representation.

Royals Reign as Champions

If someone were to observe the track team before any practice or meet, they would hear them saying, "Blissfield High School has the best track team in the county...YES!" The boys' team not only had one of the best teams in the county, but also in the state. They convincingly captured the league and regional championships.

The regional win was the first in over fifteen years, and the league win was the first in ten years. Many personal and school records were broken during the season. Andrew Gitersonke, state champ in high hurdles, broke the 14 year old long jump record with a jump of 22'1".

Overall the boys ran to a perfect 9-0 dual meet record along with winning the Clinton and Flat Rock Invationals. Track has a lot of individual races, but everyone ran for the team cause.

Jay Nieman, senior co-captain and top discus performer, helped to lead the Royals in field events.

Chris DeBacker held the top spot in the Regionals and placed fourth in state competition.

Outstanding Record, 9-0

This year's track team had an outstanding year with a 9-0 record. The highlight of the year was beating defending state champ, Onsted by a score of 71-57.

Angie Sell set a new school record in the 2-mile relay. Debi Brink tied the 100 meter dash record with a time of 11.3 seconds. The first team all-league selections were Heidi Reed, Heather Reed, Angie Sell, Jessica Rothfuss, Debi Brink, Heather Brink, Jessica Gaines, Shannon Waigle, Mindy Stoddard and Sarah Boyd.

The Masses. At most schools they can be easily broken down into groups with such labelings as the brains, the jocks, the burnouts, or the nerds. To break down the student body in cliques at B.H.S. would be a difficult task. All of the students at Blissfield seem to have a larger picture of friendships, a picture that develops into the Masses.

Seniors Prepare to Face Life

We first knew our future was beginning when we sat down to take the ACT. Visiting colleges, filling out book-length applications, and anxiously awaiting acceptance to the college of our choice were signs that our lives were moving on.

Until then decision making had been simple. Now we were faced with decisions of a lifetime.

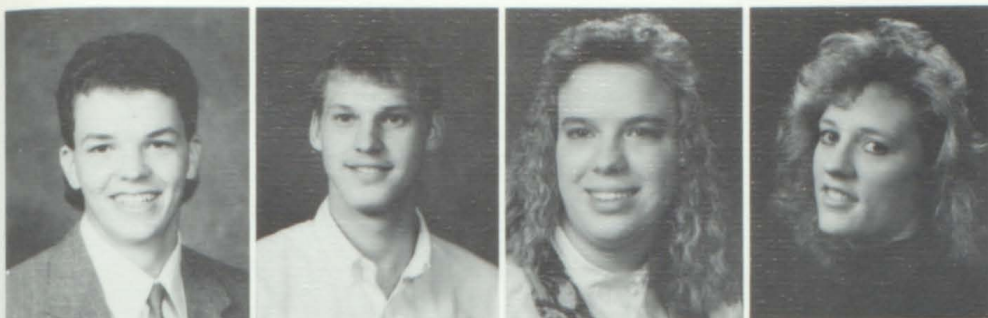

Living in a small town, with a good school, filled with great people, gave us a solid foundation to begin building the rest of our lives. With this foundation, the rewards of success became ours.

This normal lunchroom scene will soon be a thing of the past as seniors prepare to step out into the real world.

Venturing Out

A Glimpse of the World to Come

The opportunity of traveling to a foreign country is a unique one. Colleen Miller, Kristen Saxton and Shana Case took advantage of the rare experience.

Colleen spent her junior year "down under", in Australia. Kristen traveled to France for two months in the summer of 1989. Shana journeyed to Japan during the summer of 1990.

These three seniors had the opportunity to discover what the world is like outside of our small town of Blissfield. They had the opportunity to experience a different culture, meet new friends and venture out into this vast world. They will carry these memories and lessons they learned for many years to come.

World travelers, Colleen Miller, Kristen Saxton and Shana Case have explored life in another country.

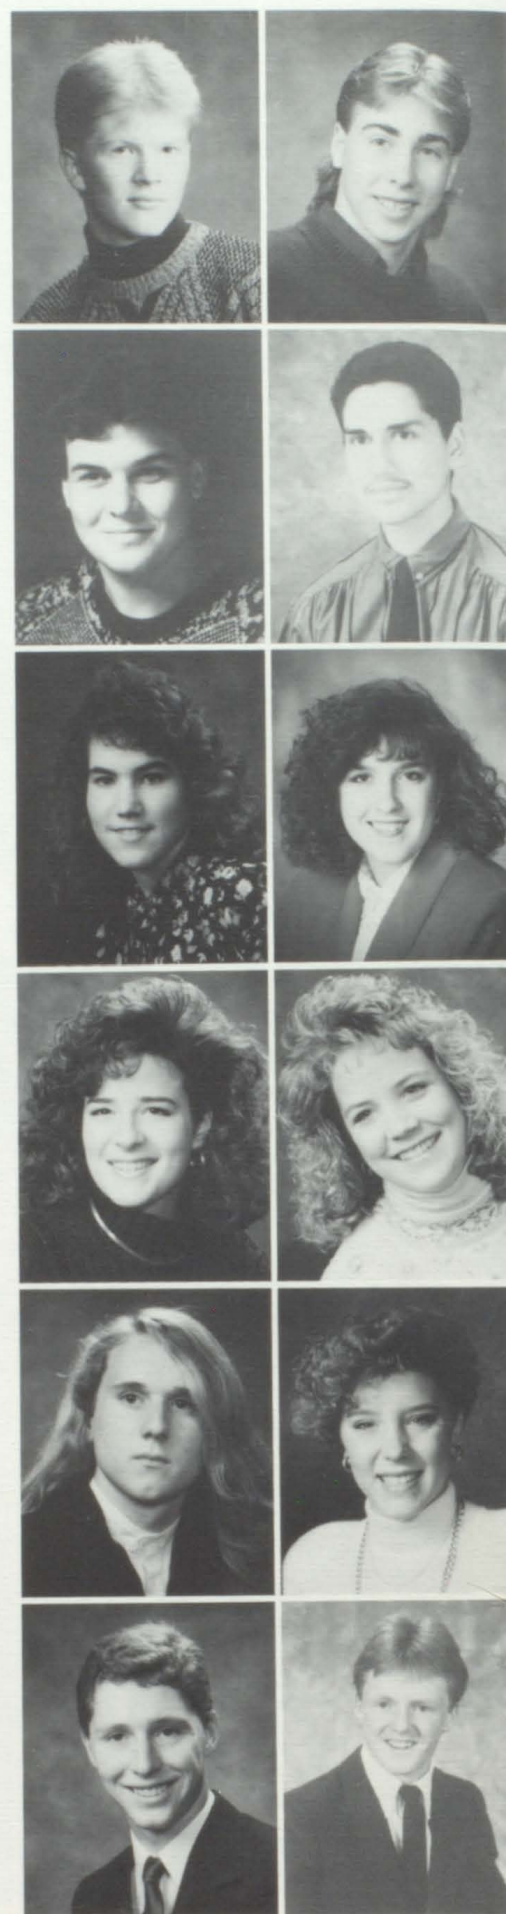

Carrying out the exchange student tradition are: Christian Nielson, Micheal VanVlimmeren, Elson Freire, Marcelo Godke Vieg, Thomas Spriess, Birte Bronner, Betina Hoegstrup, and Satoko Furichi.

A Forty Year Tradition

Exchange Students Try BHS

They leave their friends, family and country to try life in America for a year. They struggle with making new friends, mastering a different language and battling homesickness. These brave and adventurous souls are foreign exchange students and for the past 40 years, Blissfield High School has had the privilege of opening it's doors to these students.

Christian Nielson gets into the spirit of homecoming by helping the seniors with their float.

Remember when life meant playing matchbox cars and swinging on the swings? Remember when graham crackers or an ice cream cone could mend all troubles?

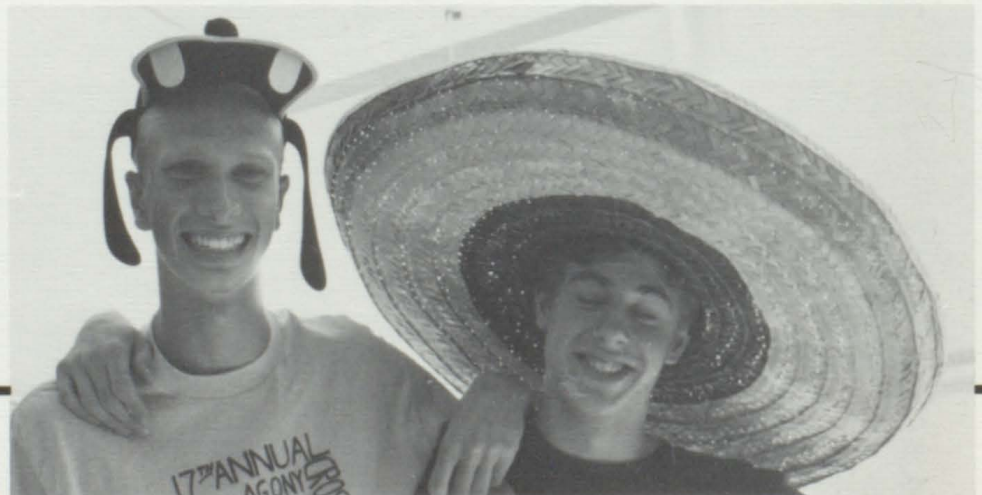

Those were the good old days. The days when going to school was exciting and learning was actually fun. Sometimes it is hard to remember when life was so simple and carefree and you weren't concerned about what college you are going to and what you plan to do with the rest of your life.

For the class of 1991, these memories of days gone by are priceless. As the senior class steps out into this new phase of their lives, they are leaving behind thirteen years of friends and irreplaceable times. Locked within each of them are the memories from fifth and eighth grade camp, recesses and their first crushes.

The Good Old Days

Good friends, good times. Chris DeBacker and Matt Shirley model their hats worn for Hat Day during homecoming week.

WAR IN THE GULF

When President Bush said, "The liberation of Kuwait has begun," lives of BHS students were interrupted as the Allies, began to bomb Iraq. The magnitude of war was felt by all, whether it was writing letters to service persons, attending prayer vigils or wearing red, white and blue arm bands to show their support for our troops, each student portrayed their patriotism.

January 16, 1991, will be remembered as the day that America took a stand for what was right and a day when each of us began to appreciate our country and its freedom in a deeper way.

In support of the war, students like Tito Flores, Mark Risch, Heather Reed, Kelly VanSchoyk and Kirk Neuroth, wore their red, white, and blue arm bands.

Pump It Up!

As the threat of war increased, so did the price of gasoline in our country. Drivers such as Ken Brooks who is pictured above, had to dig deeper into their pockets to scrape enough money to fill their tanks.

The Year The World Came To BHS

Channel One Is Plugged In

Channel One, a product of the Whittle Educational Network, became a reality last year. Receiving color televisions in every room, a satellite dish and video recorders, the students were kept well informed on happenings important to them including the Gulf War.

"I believe that Channel One is a well broadcasted news channel, which keeps us up to date on latest happenings." stated Troy Wood.

Marcelo Godke Viega and Betina Hoegstrup "tune into the world" through Channel One.

Headed For The Top

Their year of trials set by upperclassmen was over. The ultimate test was passed with flying colors. The class of '93 made it... They were no longer freshmen.

With the ultimate goal in mind, Prom 1992, they took on various fundraising projects to make this goal a reality. Without a doubt, the sophomore class was headed for the top!

Preparing For the Future

As they prepared for their senior year, the junior class began to think about life after high school. Career projects in Mr. Durbin's English 11 classes helped each junior investigate career choices and prepare them for what the future will hold. The class of 1992 is beginning to realize that they are standing at the threshold of their futures.

A Changing World Means A Changing School

This year certainly has been one of change. We started the year off welcoming two new members to the staff, Mrs. Wright and Miss Sagel. Mrs. Wright taught skills for living and Miss Sagel was the new librarian.

Mr. Richard Reaume accepted a position as a counselor. Mr. Al Diver became principal and Mr. Norman Napier, from St. John's in Toledo, became administrative assistant.

With all these new people and innovations, Blissfield High School has improved upon an already great system.

Miss Sagel, our new librarian prepares the Channel One tape for the school to see.

Freshmen Find Freedom

The transition from middle school to high school can be a dreaded experience for some freshmen, yet the new found freedoms of a different atmosphere made it worthwhile for the freshmen class of 1994. Newcomers learned to deal with a new school and unfamiliar teachers, and found time to socialize with friends and enjoy extracurricular activities.

The class of 1994's officers and representatives for the 1990-91 school year were: Kelly VanShoyck, treasurer; Diana Wilke, secretary; Tammy Fetzer, vice-president; Joel Neuman, Jamie Lombard, Michelle Neuroth, representatives; and Jake Seiser, president. ## Support Staff Excellence Behind the Scenes

They make sure that the school we come to each day is neat and clean. They slave over hot stoves everyday to provide the student body with lunch. These people are rarely thanked for their contributions to this high school. Our support staff is made up of people who are using their talents to help maintain the standard of excellence that is our trademark here at BHS.

With their watchful eyes, lunch monitors Wendall Goetz and Cathy Horky kept food from flying in the cafeteria.

Helping to keep the athletic program running smoothly is athletic secretary, Judy Beagle.

Keeping our school looking beautiful are janitors Jim Sharp, Todd Shephard, Alex Vince, Jim Shephard.

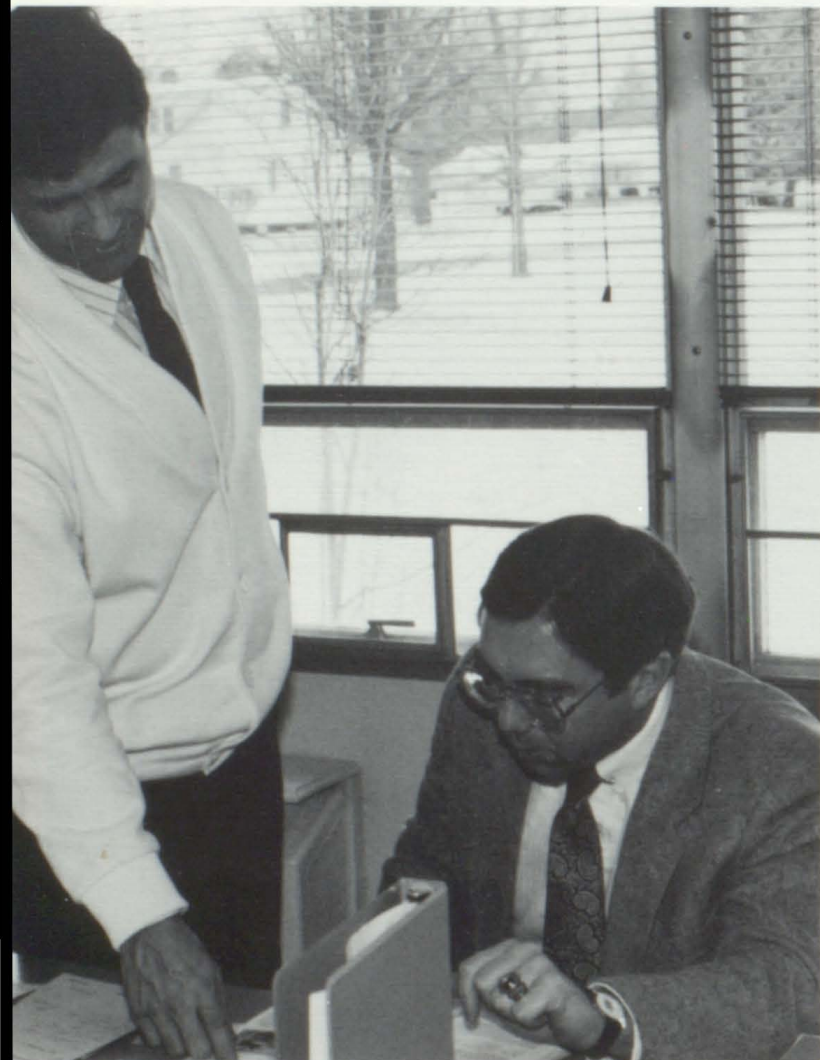

With smiling faces, Charlotte Logan, Kathy Ruhl, Vivian Warner, Lora Stutzman, Char Horky and Elsie Demey serve 500 hungry students each day.

Molding Our Futures

They have been a part of our lives ever since we can remember. They have taught us how to think and have given us knowledge that will enrich our futures. These everlasting influences in our lives have been our teachers.

Unfortunately, most teachers are not given the recognition they deserve for all of their hard work and efforts to make learning enjoyable. They have given part of themselves to teach us not only about molecules, punctuation, and equations, but to teach us about this vast world and our place in it.

To keep their schedule's filled, many of the students participated in a variety of activities. These not only acted as time fillers, but as a way to make new friends and a way to help with community projects. These activities helped students release the tension built up from the day, along with helping them build a strong leadership role in the school.

S C Student Council

The student council tried to do things above and beyond what it has done in previous years. This year's council worked hard to start new projects and keep school spirit up. Some of the things they did was to put on the "Be Excellent" assembly, start a paper recycling program, purchase ten new round tables for the cafeteria and provide breakfast for students before school.

Kirk Jackson and Stephanie Peterham eat in the art room during one of the many lunchtime workshops listeners attended to learn more about how to help their peers.

Father and daughter combo, Jack and Sarah Boyd, prepare to tear up the court. Participants listen as Mr. Babbitt clarifies the rules to the first annual student council sponsored badminton tournament.

Fall Play

Kasee Showalter, Robyn Haddad, Judy Marcus and Shana Case sit around the house and have "girl talk".

After hours of rehearsals, hard work and memorization, the annual fall play, entitled "Winners", was a definite winner to those who saw it.

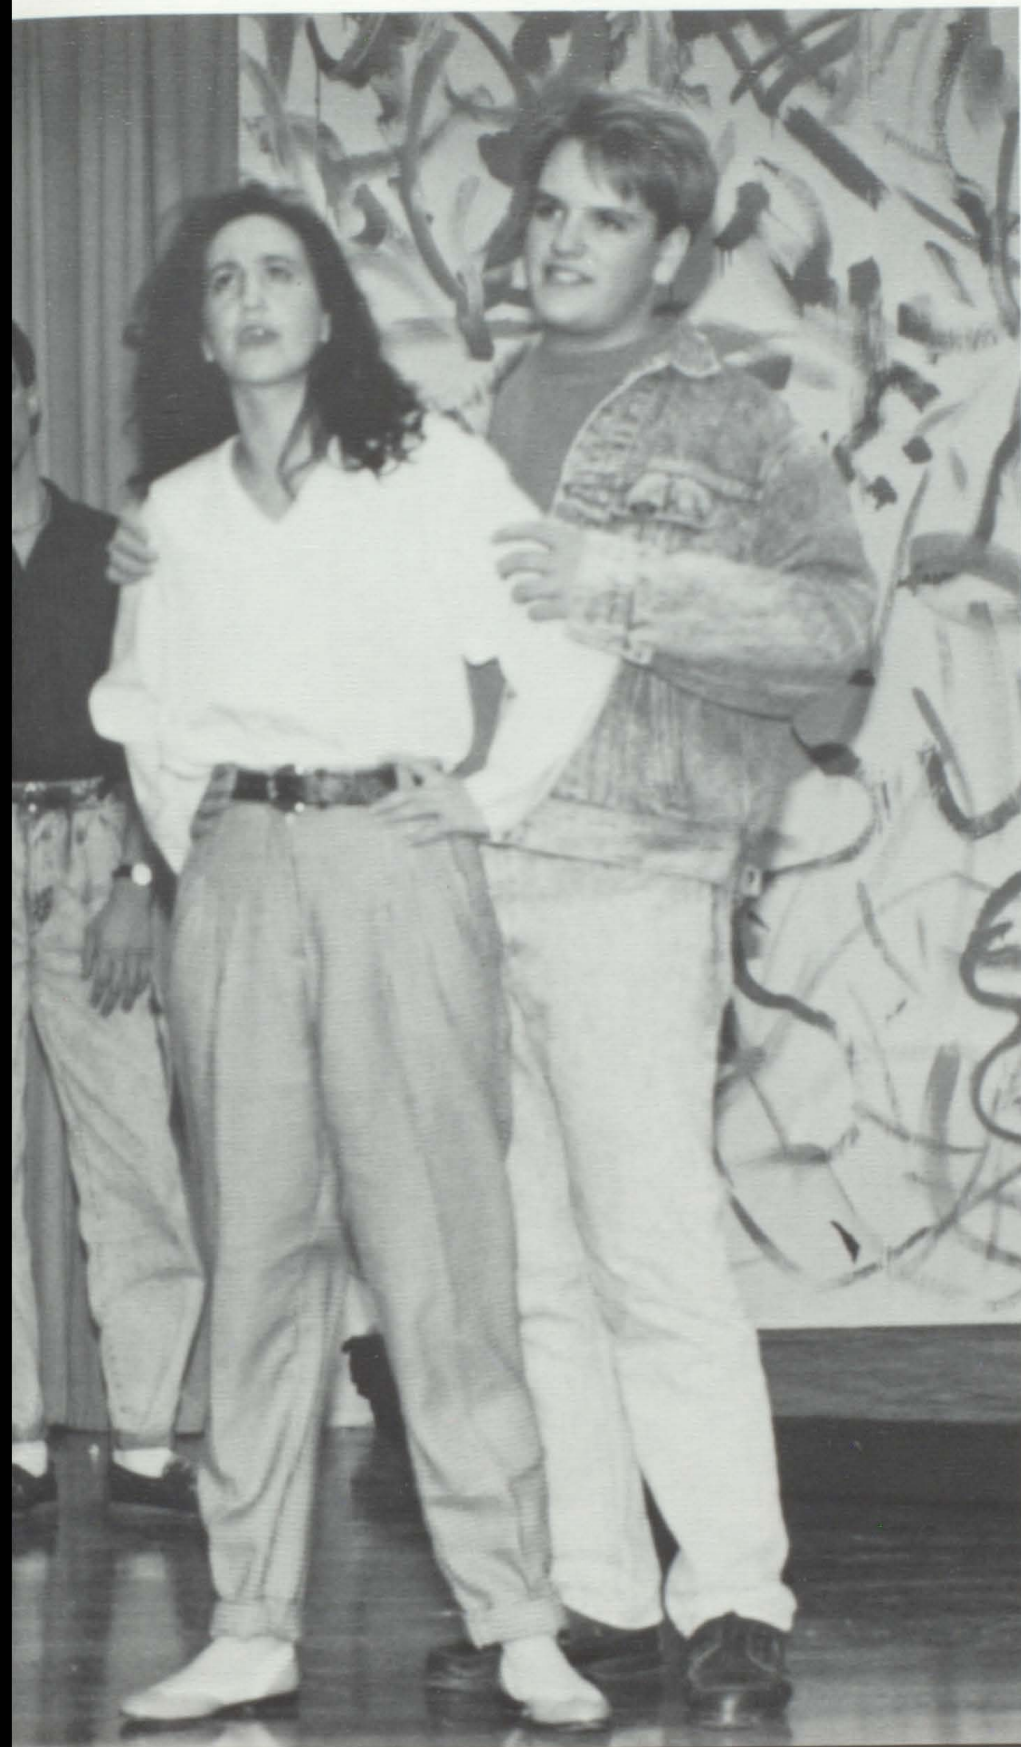

The actors and actresses of "Winners" portrayed the many problems and worries that face high schoolers today. "Winners" showed the struggle that teenagers have in finding their place in this world and the feelings they encounter as they try so desperately to be accepted by their peers.

Many people helped to make the production of "Winners" a success. The cast and crew deserve two thumbs up for their magnificent performance.

"Winners"

Jason Lubinski tries to control his girlfriend, played by Robyn Haddad.

Colleen Miller lets David Hejl know how she feels about certain subjects.

Spring Musical

Ready for greener pastures, Pauline (C. Miller) bids Nanette (N. Lajiness) farewell.

San Francisco lady (S. Case) struts her stuff.

"No No Nanette"

Filled with dancing, singing and some outrageously funny characters, the spring musical, entitled "No No Nanette", was a big success. With almost 50 people working together, it was obvious that many long hours had been put into presenting this musical. The hard work paid off, and as the curtain closed, the applause of the audience was proof that "No No Nanette" was a success.

Fast-stepping to the the tune of "You Can Dance" is Mr. and Mrs. Early (K. Neuroth and N. DeGroff). Playing Ring Around the Rosie with the boys is Lucille Early (N. DeGroff).

Flashy Smiles and

Representing the junior class are float riders Sarah Boyd and Sara Diebel.

Jennifer Stutzman, Marcello Godke Veiga, Betina Hoegstrup and Christian Nielson do some last minute fluffing for the senior float.

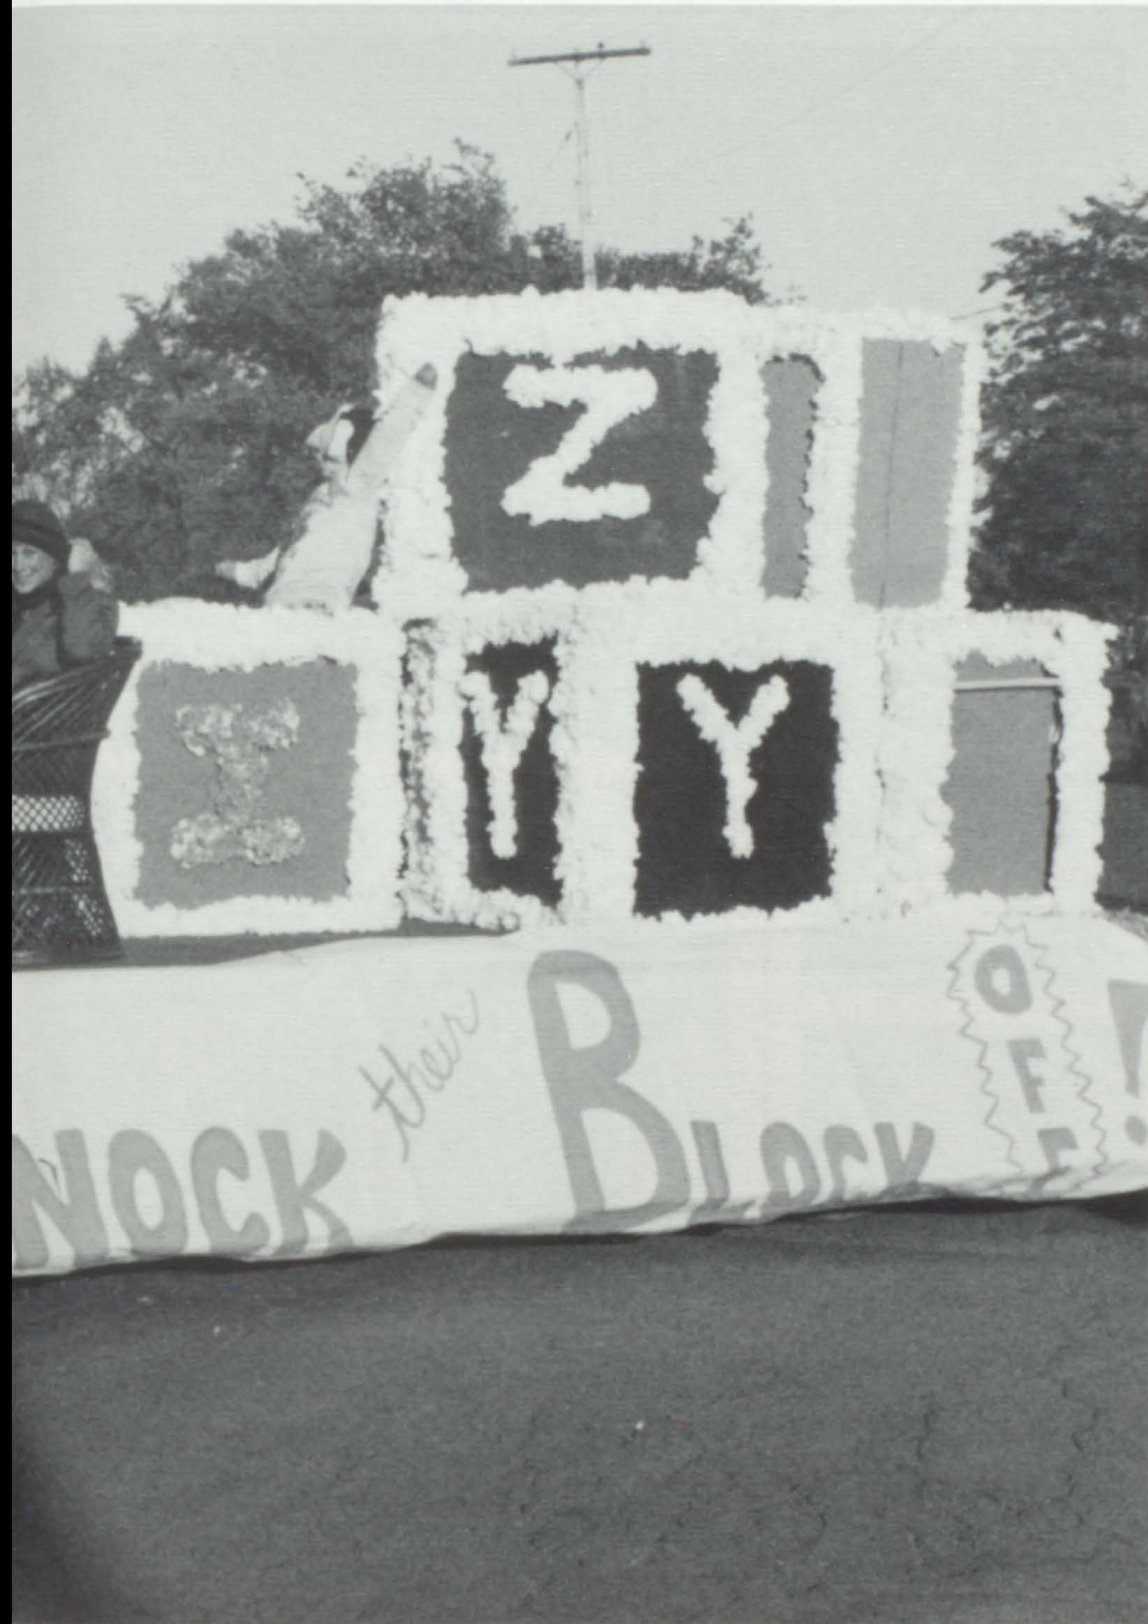

Beginning the festivities is the BHS marching band.

Windblown Hair

Homecoming Court members Shana Case, Jessica Rothfuss, Queen Amy Miller and Jennie Charlefour pose for pictures before the parade.

The Senior class shows their support and enthusiasm at the pep assembly.

Coming Home -1991

Members of the King's Court are K. Keller, A. Gitersonke, C. DeBacker and T. Flores.

IDEA Finds School "Home for the Mind"

IDEA, a new method of learning in a classic system, is a program to introduce an educational process of self-evaluation and independent decision making. Following the theme, "school is a home for the mind", IDEA deals less with memorization and more with productive, responsible choices.

Writing Seminars

The SE Michigan Writing is a process writing theory taught by Dr. Dick Koch of Adrian College and practiced by several teachers at all levels in the Lenewee County area.

Eight of Blissfield's staff were a part of a writing seminar covering ten days spread out through first and second semester.

This writing method then was used not only in English classes but also in courses such as anatomy.

Darla Nowak concentrates on choosing the right answers on the Test of Cognitive Skills that the student body took in April.

1:10 Ratio – a Unique Experience

What do you get when you mix ten seniors with 100 fifth graders? The answer- a week of fun at fifth grade camp. Jennifer Bohlka, Jennie Charlefour, Nikki Dewey, Kristen Saxton, Jennifer Stutzman, Ben Brown, Tito Flores, Spencer Miller, Randy Weeber and Eric Yape served as counselors for the fifth grade outdoor education program.

The week was frustrating at times for the cabin leaders, but seeing their cabin grow as a group and getting to know each child better made the hard work worthwhile. Fifth grade seemed like a long time ago for those ten seniors, but by stretching themselves to relate to the fifth graders, they grew and gained many admirers and friends.

Blissfield, after a few years of quietness sees a renewed intrest in the downtown area. The openig of several antique, arts, and crafts shops along with the Hathaway House and the new tourest train brings in many visitors to bolster the local economy. On the negative side, the Dairy Queen burned at the start of the gulf war and caught national attention in Time magazine and was televised on national news.
