Windows of Opportunity

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

The Windows of Opportunity Auction Committee is hard at work soliciting items for our online auction to be held April 17-27, 2024 in conjunction with the Windows Gala scheduled for April 27 at Val's Restaurant. We have had a good response so far from local businesses, but in order to meet our auction goal of $20,000 we need more high-end auction items. Items we are in search of include a weekend or week at a vacation home or timeshare, airline flights or points that are transferable, YETI cooler, TV, bicycle, professional sports tickets, summer or sports camp weeks, golf experiences, computers or tablets, and other exciting or unique experiences. If you are able to donate or can connect our committee with someone who can donate one of these items, please contact Pat Korandanis at 508-829-9979 or korandanisp@gmail.com. The addition of these items or items similar to them will help us meet our goal. Thanks in advance for your help!

For lovers of historical fiction--

Author Spotlight on Noelle Salazar

Born and raised in the Pacific Northwest, Noelle Salazar has always been a storyteller. She is the author of three historical fiction books.

Her debut novel was published in 2019. The Flight Girls is an unforgettable story about a fascinating piece of World War II history, the female pilots of the WASP (Women Airforce Service Pilots) Program.

Noelle's second novel, Angels of the Resistance, was published in 2022. This book was inspired by the true story of two courageous teenage sisters who risked everything to join the Dutch resistance in the Netherlands in the 1940s.

Noelle's latest novel is titled The Roaring Days of Zora Lily. This book captures the Jazz Age, from the liquor-soaked days of Prohibition and speakeasies in Seattle to the glamour and darkness of Hollywood. It's a saga of family ties, friendship, love, and dreams.

This Author Spotlight was written by Judy from Circulation.
