Sat. Feb. 4 at 10 AM Kathy Ostrander Roberts, Kennebunk Town Historian

"Six Feet Under: Burial Traditions in the Kennebunk's."

Historians can tell a lot about past cultures by studying what the people wore and how they lived. They can tell just as much by looking at how they died and how they treated their dead — and that will be the topic of discussion which will feature Kennebunk Town Historian Kathy Ostrander Roberts.

Ostrander Roberts will discuss, among other things, how changes in our culture bring about changes in burial traditions. For example, the dearly departed who died prior to the 1850s were laid out on the kitchen table, washed and put in plain burial gowns made of cotton or wool.

A notation in the diary of local selectman and shopkeeper Andrew Walker describes someone being buried in his best suit of clothes for the first time in town. After that, burials became more elaborate, featuring wakes, eulogies and funeral homes for the first time, in part due to new embalming techniques.

Ostrander Roberts will also discuss the evolution of gravestones since colonial days.

The genealogy Group meets on the first Saturday of the month at 10 AM (with the exception of the April 7th meeting which is at Noon and features professional genealogist Maureen Taylor, "The Photo Detective" presenting "Identifying and Dating Family Photos."

Adult Book Discussion Group

One of Amazon's Best Books of the Month, Helen Simonson's Major Pettigrew's Last Stand is a sure winner! "Change is threatening the little world of Edgecombe St. Mary. Lord Dagenham is about to sell off part of his ancestral estate to developers, and Pakistanis have taken over the village shop. Major Ernest Pettigrew is definitely old school, but he has been lonely since his wife died, and though he is prey to various unattached ladies, it is with shopkeeper Mrs. Ali that he forms a bond, nourished by their mutual interest in literature". --Quinn, Mary Ellen © 2010 Booklist. Join us for a lively discussion of this great book on Jan. 26 at 11:15 AM! Copies are available to borrow at the adult circulation desk. Kindle editions are available for $11.99 at amazon.com.

New Non-Fiction Book Group Begins

For six months in 1919, after the end of "the war to end all wars," the Big Three--President Woodrow Wilson, British prime minister David Lloyd George, and French premier Georges Clemenceau--met in Paris to shape a permanent peace. In this significant work of narrative history, Margaret MacMillan gives a vivid and intimate view of those crucial days, which saw new political entities--Iraq, Yugoslavia, and Palestine, among them--born out of the remnants of bankrupt empires, and the borders of the modern world redrawn.

The multiple award-winning book, Paris 1919: Six Months That Changed the World, will be discussed in three weekly evening sessions, each focusing on a different aspect of the book. Discussions will be held on Tuesday evenings, February 28th, March 6th and March 13th from 6:30 - 7:30 PM.

Copies of the book are available to borrow at the Library. In an effort to include our commuter friends, this book will be available to borrow in audio CD format. The book may also be purchased as an E-book, available from Google Books for $13.99.

The Library has never tried a non-fiction book group and we are excited to offer this to our patrons. Considering that there are a tremendous number of non-fiction readers, we hope that this program will be launched successfully. KFL staff member Adam Bohanan will be the discussion facilitator—several readings of the book have convinced him that it would be a worthwhile book to discuss, especially considering the currency of its decisions and its lasting influence on the international scene.
