Foreword

As true sons and loyal daughters, we will always remember with utmost pride our years at the Castle, Passaic Valley, in the "kingdom" of Little Falls.

While rising from the lowest to the highest ranks, we constantly strove to uphold the honor of our school by deep devotion and true service.

As we are about to venture forth on our next crusade to fulfill our high ideals, we have recaptured some of the cherished memories of our beloved Alma Mater in this yearbook.

Class History

Prologue

Across the field in cap and gown
 We stride, the Lords and Ladies fair,
 With ne'er a tear or dismal frown,
 But happiness is what we share.

Four ranks are we with tales to tell
 Ev'ry Crusade so bold we fought.
 We're Pages, Squires, and Knights as well,
 Yea, even Lords who glory sought.

In many tournaments we've won
 And shown to all our loyalty.
 Enough, enough, let us be done.
 To tales proceed of royalty.

"The Pages' Tale"

Afraid, we Pages roamed the hall.
 We found ourselves in such a maze,
 How could we e'er untie it all,
 When clubs and work produced a daze?

Our first Campaign, the Freshman Dance,
 Was waged with care and not in haste.
 The Bunny Hop — not named by chance
 Was suited to most every taste.

Olympus fought against Neptune.
 Our leaders: Kelly, Stokes, and Moore
 With Geitner, too, brought us fortune.
 They all were loyal to the core.

Our year, tho' trying as most are, —
 We hitched our wagon to a star.

"How's That?"

"The Freshmen Did It Again!"

"What's New?"

"Eating at the Ritz"

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

Front Row: Adele Schneider, Treasurer;
 Belinda Olivito, Secretary; William Thurlow,
 Vice-President; Karen Requa, Historian.
 Standing: Joseph Nuzzo, President;
 Mr. A. Karpinski, Adviser.

"Waiting for the Bell."

"Batter Up!"

Squires

"The Squires' Tale"

Now raised to rank of honored Squire
 We Sophomores, "wise fools," did roar.
 The Officers whom we admire:
 Michener, Geitner, with Stokes and Moore.

Our Soph'more dance then reigned supreme
 Our court was made of honored few.
 "The King and Queen of Hearts," the theme,
 Michener and Stokes, the chosen two.

Afric, the Whites; Levant, the Greens,
 For both the teams we gave a cheer.
 "On Stage," produced with many scenes,
 Was "tops" in Valley's Show that year.

Our second year we settled down
 And finally knew our way around.

"Wise Fools"

"Looking Into the Future."

"Leisure Time"

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

Ronald Sultan, President; David Jeffreys, Vice-President; Deborah Hunkeler, Secretary; Marie Halachik, Treasurer; Jean Schonhoffer, Historian; Mr. W. Hoover, Adviser.

“The Knights’ Tale”

Our “Pres.” was Pete; and Walt, our “Veep,”
As Donna read and kept each note.
And Terry tried all funds to reap,
While John our Junior history wrote.

At Christmas time our class did hold
The annual Cotillion gay.
Came Ladies fair and Knights so bold,
Who dressed in fine array.

Arctic and Tropic were the teams.
For victory the two did vie.
“Of Fact and Fancy” was the theme
Which made our profits reach the sky.

And as our Junior year sped past,
We realized our die was cast.

“Spring is here!”

“A Never-to-be-forgotten Activity—Art in 105!”

"Look, Our loyalty makes Champs!"

"A Touch of the Tropics"

"Rembrandt of P. V."

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Front Row: Barbara Carpenter, Secretary; Judy McCabe, Treasurer; Grace De Diminicanio, Vice - President.
 Back Row: Richard Rombough, President; Mrs. A. Egan, Adviser; Michael Levin, Historian.

“The Lords’ Tale”

As Lords and Ladies at the top,
Our last Crusade was almost thru.
We labored hard but did not stop
Until we bid the school adieu.

Very much deflated was our pride,
When lost, like sheep, in halls brand-new.
The Artists’ Ball we took in stride,
But sad were we, when it was through.

The climax to a thrilling year,
Our Prom and Graduation done.
Each held in outside atmosphere,
Which brought back thoughts of by-gone fun.

Four years of trials and success
Were worth it all, we must confess.

The story concerns the gentle inmates of a rest home called "The Cloisters." The wealthy Mrs. Savage is sent to this home by her late husband's children who are trying to take her money away from her. However, this is easier said than done. Many hilarious antics take place as the children try to find the money, and Mrs. Savage outwits them at every turn. Humor is also supplied by the inmates as they try to help Mrs. Savage. All ends on a happy note as the money is returned to Mrs. Savage and she uses it to help make the dreams of her friends at "The Cloisters" come true.

The title role was portrayed by Paula Moore, supported by an able cast, including, Carolyn Braen, Alice-Jane Wedlake, Marion Douma, Dorothy De Block, Doris Newmark, Edward Pawel, Steven Borsh, Walter De Palma, Edward Daniels, and Robert Beauchamp.

From this first-rate production, the Class realized a fine profit which went toward helping to pay the necessary senior expenses.

TROUBADOUR

Music Department

Music plays a very important role in the lives of many of our students. From their freshman year to graduation our students show their devotion and loyalty to their school and their music by the many long hours of constant practice to better themselves and to present musical programs of lasting merit.

When school opened in September of 1956, a completely new and well-equipped music wing furnished the students with an added incentive to prepare for the yearly activities and productions of The Music Department which include the spirited Marching Band for the football season, the solemn and seasonable Christmas Concert, the annual Band Concerts, and the gay Valley Varieties show.

We are very proud of the members of our Music Department, especially those who have distinguished themselves as qualifying for membership in the All-State Chorus and Orchestra.

VARSITY

Football

Passaic Valley in the 1956 gridiron season captured second place in the Lakeland Conference under the guidance of Coach Steve Gerdy. Although the team lost several games by one touchdown, tremendous spirit and determination were displayed throughout the season.

Two of the outstanding players on the team were end, Bob Lattimore, and guard, Bob Luckenbach, who were selected for the All-Conference first team. In addition, Bob Crossley, John Rock, and Frank Casilli were nominated to the All-Conference second team for their fine play in Valley's forward wall.

Elsewhere in the Hornet line, Fred Voos, John Salvi, Pete Geitner, John Corry, Neil Okker, and Skip Pasquariello performed with top efficiency. Seniors who also saw action were Bill Koscuizka, Jim Stewart, Pete Francisco, Hank Thompson, and Ken Riley.

With the exception of Tom Ferguson and Harry Banks, the Hornet backfield was composed of underclassmen. Richie DeGraw, who has two more years at Valley, handled the quarterback position in fine fashion. Jim Del Sardo, Tom Liska, and Larry Cannataro were noted for their power and drive in the backfield, along with Ray Homer who picked up vital yardage.

Although Valley will miss many of the senior players, prospects are good for next year due to an undefeated Junior Varsity team and added experience.

Basketball

Under the capable leadership of Coach Elmer Griswold, the Hornet basketball team tied with Wayne and Butler for the Lakeland Conference Championship. The team was composed of underclassmen with the exception of Ed Cusick and Frank Michener, who acted as co-captains.

Cusick, noted for his excellent set shot, was Valley's high scorer, a top-notch defensive player, and a solid rebounder.

Michener, who missed several games because of pneumonia, performed with top efficiency and will be definitely missed next year.

Don Duin, outstanding as center under both the offensive and defensive boards, was the key factor in many Valley victories.

Gus Eifler was noted for his driving power at forward and great accomplishments are expected from him next season.

Ed Barbieri, Richie DeGraw, and Jim Del Sardo each saw action in the starting five. They could be counted upon for scoring key points and for playing a fine all around floor game.

Characteristic of this year's team was hard, aggressive play with a determined spirit and attitude. Next year the outlook is very good because of the returning varsity players along with prospects from Valley's Junior Varsity team which went undefeated in conference play.

Baseball

As the winter snow melted and thoughts turned toward the coming baseball season, Coach Elmer Griswold found six returning lettermen and many fine prospects out for the baseball team. Returning from last year are pitcher Phil LaBruto, the mainstay of the Homet mound staff, and Tony Ciccone, who figures to be one of the better catchers in the league this year.

Other returnees included Frank Michener, playing shortstop for the fourth straight year, Jim Del Sardo at first, and Joe Bores and John Salvi in the outfield.

Included in the group of promising prospects are outfielders Richie De Graw, Jim Canfield, and Bill St. Pierre; infielders Bill Tawpash, Tony Maglio, Neil Honan, Richie Gore, and Jim Capalbo; and pitchers Mike Herinda, Joe Gabriel, and Ray Homer.

The Hornet schedule consists of seventeen games for the season, including eight important conference tilts.

Track

Track Team

Get on your mark; get set; go! Such is the theme of Coach Joe Farrell and the Hornet track team as they prepare for what promises to be a successful track season. The squad, which is composed of about fifty members, will compete in eleven meets during the season.

Spearheading the club are seniors Tom Ferguson, who competes in the 100-yard dash, low hurdles, and the broad jump, and Fred Overkamp, number one man in the 220-yard dash and high hurdles.

Other top men at the start of the season include Manfred Augenstein in the 440-yard dash and javelin throw, Ray Shark in the 880-yard run, Dave Nemchick in the one mile run, George Duin in the shot put, Richie Rombough in the high jump, Don Duin in the discus throw, and Renard Galus in the pole vault event.

Although a comparatively new sport at Valley, track has won its rightful place in our sports program, and promises a bright future for its participants.

Placing for the Hornets in the championship race were Frank Michener, Manfred Augenstein, Fred Overkamp, Tony Ciccone, and Tim French.

In addition to beating Wayne, Dover, and Boonton in the conference meet, Valley was victorious over Don Bosco, Passaic, Morris Hills, and Ramapo Regional in regular season contests.

Other members of the squad to receive varsity letters were Ed Barbieri, Rodney De Pope, John Giger, Dave Nemchick, Ed Liggieri, John Bergman, Paul Hemmingway, Jim Price, and Phil Tiritilli.

On November 12, eight Valley Harriers traveled to Elizabeth, New Jersey, to compete against 34 schools and 275 runners in the annual state cross country meet. The Hornet team finished in seventh place, which was best in this area.

Continued success is the outlook for next year due to the return of many members of the varsity squad.
