TeenTober is a nationwide celebration hosted by libraries every October and aims to celebrate teens, promote year-round teen services and the innovative ways teen services helps teens learn new skills, and fuel their passions in and outside the library. TeenTober allows libraries the flexibility to choose what to celebrate (digital literacy, reading, technology, writing, etc.) and the length of time for each celebration.

Middle or high school students are encouraged to:

- ~ Join a book discussion group at their school or public library
- ~ Read biographies of their favorite musicians, comedians, politicians, or sports figures
- ~ Read books about a hobby that interests them
- ~ Read books that approach a subject through humor
- ~ Read what they want to read, just for the fun of it

Don't Touch My Hair* by Sharee Miller

Aira loves her soft and bouncy hair that grows up towards the sun just like a flower, but others can't resist trying to touch her hair without permission. What will Aria do?

Sunday, October 11- 11:00 a.m.

Krita

In today's video we're going to change things up a bit with a short tour of my favorite digital art software: Krita! Why are we talking about software instead of doing a craft project? Well, that's because our next video is going to be all about the amazing world of surface design! Have you ever walked by a beautiful dress in the mall and thought, if only those were pink posies instead of red roses? Or wanted the perfect print for a sewing project but just couldn't find one that fit your needs? It's moments like these where crafters everywhere think "if only I could print my own fabric." Well, in our next video on surface design we'll learn how to do exactly that! But before we can jump into surface design we need to learn how to use the tools of the trade, in this case that's digital art software, so grab your laptops and pull out your sketchbooks and join Crafti on this tour of the tools we'll be using for our next big project!

Juliette Hampton Morgan Memorial Library Continued...

Tuesday, October 13-10:00 a.m.

Cook from our Books: Pets!

Doggo Donuts

Baking a tasty treat isn't just for humans. Treat your best friend to something as well! These easy to follow recipes are sure to delight your canine companions and set their tails a-waggin'.

Thursday, October 15- 12:10 p.m.

Word of Mouth

Homemade Bath Bomb

Feeling the need to relax? How about a nice, homemade bath bomb? It sounds complicated, but they are easy to make! Bath bombs combine ingredients such as Epsom salt, essential oils and even coconut oil to make you feel relaxed and create a luxurious experience. Vanilla, rose, lavender, jasmine.... sigh. Follow along with Ms. Lindsay as you learn how to make a lovely scented bath bomb of your own! Add one to your bath and relax...

Monday, October 19- 10:00 a.m.

Formatting in Microsoft Word Part 1

Description: Learn how to format in Microsoft Word in 2 parts! In this first video, we will discuss character format.

Wednesday, October 21- 10:00 a.m.

Dear Teacher/Librarian,

The Montgomery City-County Public Library System has a subscription to these services that you can use for FREE! Bonus, it does not require a library card for your students to access. Books within these platforms can be directly linked to your remote learning platforms so students can click and read. You can even partner with us for additional features such as MyAssignments, at one time called TumbleTracker.

MyAssignments is a feature which allows a teacher to set up their classrooms and then assign them homework, like books to read, and quizzes to complete within the TumbleBooks platform!

To sign up, simply email rino@tumblebooks.com with:

1. The name of your school!
2. The emails and names of other teachers in your school who want access to MyAssignments.

Once TumbleBooks sets everyone up, they will send out an email with login information for the feature.

Students can access the feature by clicking on the MyAssignments link in the blue nav bar, and then selecting their classroom from the dropdown menu (no password required). There, they will find their assignments, a brief message from the teacher, and the due date.

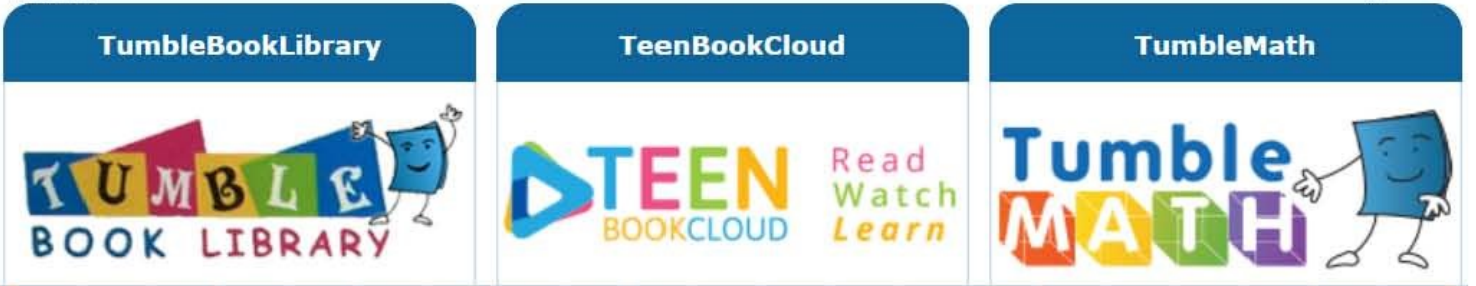

Note that MyAssignments is strictly an assignment function for the teacher and students. It does not track the work or progress of the student, and does not ask for any personal information.

Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns.

Dear Teacher/Librarian,

“You can now post direct links to individual TumbleBooks on remote learning platforms! Just go to the Index of your TumbleBookLibrary, TumbleMath, or TeenBookCloud subscription and click on the book ID of any title you want. You will see the direct link which you can then copy and paste and share with your students.” - Tumble Books

Don't hesitate to contact your Montgomery Library if you have any questions or would like a tutorial. Stay Safe!
