Mission Statement

To primarily serve the people of Moultonborough as a center of information and to promote knowledge, culture, enjoyment and education for all residents and users of the Library.

Library Objective

1. Identify educational and community needs and strive to fulfill those needs, and inform the public of available library services.
2. To adhere to the American Library Association LIBRARY BILL OF RIGHTS and the "Freedom to Read" statement (both of which are attached to this policy), and to strive to meet current standards set by the American Library Association
3. To operate the Library in accordance with New Hampshire Library Statutes.
4. To cooperate with the school district libraries, other libraries in the state and other entities.

Library Bill of Rights

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

1. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.
2. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.
3. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.
4. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.
5. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background or views.
6. Libraries, which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve, make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

Adopted June 18, 1948
Amended February 2, 1961, June 27, 1967, and January 23, 1980, by the
ALA Council

Freedom to Read

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those, which are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.
2. Publishers, librarians and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.
3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.
4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.
5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.
6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.
7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, bookmen can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one; the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

Statement issued by the American Library Association and the Association of American Publishers, 1953, 1970. Amended June 30, 2004

Those using the library and its resources have the right to expect a safe, comfortable environment that supports library services. We expect all library users to observe common courtesy toward other library users and library staff. Disruptive and discourteous behavior will not be tolerated. For the safety and comfort of library patrons, volunteers and staff, behavior that is prohibited in the library includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Verbally or physically threatening other visitors, library staff or volunteers, including stalking, staring, touching, bullying or using offensive language. Harassment of any kind is strictly forbidden anywhere on library property.
2. Public displays of affection.
3. Lying down on furniture; placing feet on furniture; more than one person sitting on single seat furniture; causing excessive wear or damage to furniture.
4. The appropriate supervisor or caregiver when visiting the library must accompany children or adults needing continuous supervision or assistance. Responsibility for children using the library rests with parent/guardian or assigned chaperone, not with library personnel.
5. Soliciting funds or offering any goods or services for sale is prohibited unless authorized by the Library Director.
6. Poor personal hygiene that interferes with others ability to use the library may be cause for eviction.

Violations of this policy will result in increasing levels of action starting with asking a library user to leave the library. The level of action will be determined on a case-by-case basis and will be within the discretion of the Library Director or the Board of Trustees or the supervising staff member on duty. An incident report should be filled out and immediately given to the Director. A library user may appeal any such decision to the Board of Trustees who will review any appeals at their next scheduled meeting.

Children's Safety Policy

Library Trustees and staff wish to ensure the safety and comfort of all children in the library. We wish to make parents aware that the library is a public building, open to everyone and having some inherent risks. Parents or caregivers are responsible for children.

Children using the Library: Children must know how to reach a parent or caregiver in the event of an emergency. Both parents and children should know library hours.

Age at which child may be unattended: The age at which a child may be unattended in the library is ten (10) years of age. They are free to use the Library's resources as long as needed, provided their behavior is not disruptive to other patrons or staff. If a child becomes disruptive to other patrons or staff, or becomes distressed, the parents will be informed. Parents should realize that, in their absence, they are still legally responsible for their children's behavior.

Attendance at Library Programs: Parents are expected to be in the room with children during preschool and toddler Library programs.

Library Closing: If any unattended children are found in the library at fifteen minutes prior to closing time, the staff member will remind the child of closing time and allow him or her to call for transportation or to locate family members using the library telephone. Parents will be informed when they pick up the child that the child may not be unattended in the library. If a child's parent or guardian cannot be located within fifteen minutes after closing, the librarian or library staff person will contact the Police Department to assist in locating the parent or guardian. Under no circumstances would a staff member transport a child in his or her own vehicle. Two staff members are to remain with the child until parents or police arrive.

Gift and Donation Policy

Gifts to the Library are an important way to enhance library services, improve library facilities and provide future financing beyond the general operating budget.

Moultonborough enjoys an excellent library. However, there are frequently opportunities for improvement that would be available through private funding. That is, gifts additional to annual tax appropriation.

The Library welcomes gifts of money, books, or other real property. Gifts help the library achieve its mission and enhance our collection and services. The Library through its Board of Library Trustees may accept or decline any gift offered at its discretion. The Library also reserves the right to use the gift in whatever manner best serves the interests of the library. If accepted, the gift becomes the property of the Library. All gifts may be utilized, sold or disposed of in the best interest of the Library.

1. Monetary Contributions: Monetary contributions are added to the library's Gift Fund and are allocated by the Library Board of Trustees to supplement but not supplant the regular operating budget.
2. Monetary Endowments: The Library may accept donations to create an endowment fund with specific purposes and uses on a case-by-case basis. The donor, Library Director and Board of Library Trustees will develop the terms of the endowment agreement.
3. Book Donations - memorial books, used books, other media (CDs, DVDs, etc.): Memorial books or other library materials may be donated in honor of a friend or relative, and are marked with a special bookplate. The continued presence of the book within the collection is based on the judgment of the Library Director and the use, wear, and appropriateness of the book will be taken into consideration.

Used books, paperbacks, and other media can often be used in the library's collection. The Library Director will have final decision as to the disposition of gifted media material. Items not deemed needed for our collection will be sold at a book sale. Books must be in good, clean, odor free condition in order for the library to accept the donation. We cannot tell you immediately how your gift will be used, as we need to check our holdings, check the condition of the material, and prepare the items for whatever we decide to do. Generally, the library does not accept textbooks or books in poor physical condition.

4. Other Real Property (i.e. musical instruments, artwork, plants, furniture, etc.) Gifts of other real property especially enhance the ability of the Library to offer a positive experience to our patrons. The decision to accept or decline offers of real property will be made on a case-by-case basis by the Board of Trustees, based on recommendations of the Library Director. The decision to accept the gift (and the continued use of the gift) will be based on the appropriateness of the gift to a library setting, the potential future cost of maintaining the gift, physical space constraints of the library, and other factors particular to the type of gift as determined by the Board of Trustees.

5. Disposition of gifts: In making your gift it is important to understand that the Library reserves the right to use the gift in whatever way best serves the interest of the Library. The library applies the same criteria for evaluating gift items as it applies to purchased material. Gifts will be withdrawn in the same manner as purchased material. The library does not accept responsibility for notifying donors of withdrawal or replacement of gift items.
6. Tax Implications: All gifts may be tax deductible and the library will furnish a statement for tax purposes, but does not place a financial value on used items. The Internal Revenue Service will not accept an appraisal or estimated value of your non-monetary gift from the recipient institution. This means that the Library cannot tell you what your non-monetary gift is worth for the purpose of a tax deduction. The Library is a non-profit institution because it is a department of the Town of Moultonborough. If you intend to take a tax deduction based on your non-monetary gift, we will give you a receipt with the quantity and description of what was donated. You should have an independent party give you the appraisal.

In order to recognize and encourage gift giving:

1. All donations will receive a personal "Thank You" letter from the Director.
2. Gifts that fund additions to the library collection will have a gift card affixed to the donated item, such as a book, video, etc.
3. Donors of gifts valued at $100 and above have the option to be publicly recognized on the Library website's listing of current year donors, or forgo named recognition and have the donation remain anonymous.
4. All gifts valued at $500 and above can be recognized, if donor agrees, via: a) inclusion on a permanent "major donor" recognition board placed prominently in the library, and b) on the Library website's listing of current year donors.
5. Gifts that fund library equipment, fixtures, furniture, etc. where possible will have a nameplate affixed to the donated item.
6. Non-monetary gifts may not be accepted that are likely to create a future financial burden to the library.

7. The gift acceptance decision may be appealed to the Board of Library Trustees for a final decision.
8. Some gifts, generally smaller amounts, are used for current purchases. Other gifts, generally $1000 or greater, can be placed in a trust fund to provide permanent revenue to the Library. The Trustees of the Trust Fund manage these as endowment funds. Moultonborough Library is fortunate to have several of these trusts. This would be recommended for bequests and other large one-time donations.
9. The Library website will have a page on Gifts. It will explain the need for gifts, types of gifts and contact information for donors.
