Sarah let us know that Deb Hoadley let her know that the University of RI was interested in doing classes with the Paralibrarian Certifications. That she would be talking with them at the NELA Conference. We all discussed that we are not interested in people paying for classes that this program was for those not having to pay a lot to have the classes.

Sarah will reach out to Joy in Vermont to set up a time to meet with her to talk about what we are doing here in NH.
