New Hampton Historical Society presents: New Hampshire's Railroad History
Tuesday, October 18, 2016, 7:00 PM
Gordon-Nash Library, 69 Main Street, New Hampton

Our speaker is a product of the railroad era. During WWII, he traveled home on the New York Central’s Rochester-to-Boston Knickerbocker, then to Meredith from North Station. In 2007, he was appointed to the NH Rail Transit Authority charged with the still ongoing project of bringing back commuter rail service to New Hampshire. Other New England states are decades ahead of New Hampshire in revitalizing their rail systems, and this state is still pondering whether it makes sense to bring rails back to the Granite State. Tonight's program will try to explain why. Presenter: Tink Taylor

Our programs are free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served, along with fundraising items for sale.
