

150th Anniversary Time Capsule

Our celebration of the library's 150th anniversary this past year would not be complete without a time capsule to mark this milestone in our history and preserve it for posterity's sake. As we turn the page and look ahead to our 200th anniversary on April 8, 2068, we are taking a moment to seal some treasures and memorabilia inside a custom-made wooden capsule designed and built by Algonquin Regional High School Applied Arts and Technology Teacher Dan Strickland and some of his students. We are inviting the community to come and witness the sealing of the time capsule on Tuesday, July 16th at 6:00 p.m. in the cafe located on the second floor of the library. Fittingly, the cafe is part of the original Gale Library Building that opened in 1895, thanks to the generosity of Cyrus Gale, Jr. and his family. We appreciate all of the suggestions and ideas we received from local residents in helping memorialize the library and capture this moment in time. The contents of the capsule will include items representing the library's history and the world in which we lived in 2018, such as the 2018 Annual Town Report featuring the library on the cover, an iPhone, a photo of the exterior of the library as it appeared in 2018, promotional materials from our 150th Birthday Party and our 150th Jubilee, a photo of the ribbon cutting for the new library building which opened in 2009, a list of current Trustees, Friends and staff, copies of the library's Gale Forecast newsletter, photos of the Gale family, who were the main benefactors of the library, lists of bestselling books and DVDs that were popular in 2018, and magazines that capture the political, social and economic tenor of our times. Please join us for this final salute to our 150th Anniversary!

Summer Reading Suggestions for Adults

It's summertime! Grab a great book and head for the beach, pool, lake, campground, porch and patio. Here's a list of hot books selected for you by Deborah, Donna and Spencer:

If She Wakes by Michael Koryta

When Abby Kaplan investigates a suspicious accident that left a visiting professor dead and senior Tara Beckley a prisoner of locked-in-syndrome, she becomes a target of a mysterious hit man. A chilling novel full of masterfully sustained suspense.

Underland by Michael Koryta

Award winning nature writer Macfarlane takes us on an extraordinary journey into various "worlds beneath our feet": Bronze Age funeral chambers in Somerset, England; the Timavo River 1,000 feet underground in Slovenia and northeast Italy; the Paris catacombs; Greenland's Rasmussen Glacier; and a Finnish nuclear waste depository. With each quest, McFarlane illuminates our relationship with darkness, burial, and what lies beneath the surface of both place and mind. This book is a treasure all its own.

Cari Mora by Thomas Harris

A ruthless man driven by unspeakable appetites to pursue a fortune in cartel gold hidden beneath a Miami mansion finds his efforts challenged by Cari Mora, the mansion's caretaker and a war survivor with unusual talents. Harris' sixth novel marks the long awaited return of the master storyteller who conjured Hannibal Lecter.

Miracle Creek by Angie Kim

How far will we go to protect our families? In Miracle Creek, Virginia, recent Korean immigrant Pak Yoo has staked his family's future on the Miracle Submarine, a hyperbaric oxygen chamber reputed to heal a range of conditions, from autism to infertility. When an accident occurs, client Elizabeth Ward is charged with creating the fire and explosion that killed her autistic son and another client and injuring others. During the four-day trial, secrets between the Yoos and their clients begin to emerge. A taut and thrilling debut novel for fans of Liane Moriarty and Celeste Ng.

Friends We Keep by Jane Green

Best friends at university, Evvie, Maggie, and Topher have lost touch with one another and their dreams. Supermodel Evvie wrecked her career with an ill-advised liaison. Maggie married the love of her life, who turned out to be an alcoholic. And successful actor Topher sabotages relationships because of childhood shame. Now it's their 30th reunion; are second chances possible? Find out in his compelling novel about love, grief and forgiveness.

The Lady in the Lake by Laura Lippman

Set in 1960s Baltimore, bestselling novelist Lippman weaves a riveting historical mystery about a middle-aged housewife turned aspiring reporter who pursues the murder of a forgotten young woman. Combining modern psychological insights with elements of classic noir, Lippman gives us a compelling thriller and a fascinating look at urban life, racism, classism and sexism from 50 years ago.

The Pioneers by David McCullough

Drawing on little-known archives, acclaimed popular historian McCullough chronicles the settlement of the Ohio River Valley that emphasizes the courage and tenacity of early pioneers and the precedents they set for further westward expansion. A unique and vivid account of well-connected families whose impact on the region spanned generations, admirably portraying their efforts to create a new England on the frontier.

The Valedictorian of Being Dead by Heather Armstrong

In this revealing memoir, Armstrong chronicles her extraordinary experience of how she was put into a coma 10 times as part of a controversial test study to overcome severe clinical depression, its effects on her daily life, the progressive improvement of her condition, the reactions of her family and the team of specialists overseeing the closely monitored deaths and rebirths that ultimately led to her victory.

City of Girls by Elizabeth Gilbert

Beloved author Gilbert (Eat, Pray, Love) returns to fiction with a unique love story set in the New York City theater world during the 1940s. Told from the perspective of an older woman as she looks back on her youth with both pleasure and regret (but mostly pleasure), the novel explores themes of female sexuality and promiscuity, as well as the idiosyncrasies of true love. A page-turner with heart.

Nickel Boys by Colson Whitehead

There were rumors about Nickel Academy, a Florida reform school, but survivors kept their traumas to themselves until a university archaeology student discovered the secret graveyard. The acclaimed author of The Underground Railroad follows up with another novel of Deep South captivity inspired by disclosures of a real-life Florida reform school's long-standing corruption and abusive practices. Whitehead's potent drama exposes the brutality and insidiousness of Jim Crow racism with compassion and protest.
