Pause: Take a moment to take care of you

Wednesday, May 10, 2017 | 7 - 8:30

Meeting Room

Throughout the course of providing therapy to clients, Therapist and Clinical Consultant Sarah Hamelin, whose practice is located in Northborough, has found some similar themes. The main theme is that people avoid emotions as much as possible. Ms. Hamelin has written a book entitled Pause: Take a moment to take care of you. In her book, on which this presentation is based, she provides a lot of the tools that she teaches in sessions to help people take care of themselves better emotionally so that they can enjoy life more. The main theme is for people to take a “pause” and be aware of what is going on for them so they can manage their emotions and their ability to communicate better.

Too Human - Roger Bruno & Ellen Schwartz

Tuesday, May 30, 2017 | 7 - 8:00

Meeting Room

Join us for a performance by acclaimed Jazz duo Roger Bruno and Ellen Schwartz of Too Human. Originally hailing from New York, both Ellen and Roger had music in their lives from a very young age. Over the years they both explored different musical genres and instruments, but what remained constant was singing, the song and the passion. They eventually became professional songwriters in Los Angeles, where they had their songs covered by a broad spectrum of recording artists, including Cher, Pat Benatar, Teddy Pendergrass, Martha Davis (of the Motels), Anne Murray, Nancy Wilson and Ramsey Lewis. Their songs have even been heard on TV shows, including Fame, General Hospital and As the World Turns.

Join us at 6 PM for an art reception with artists Janet Schwartz (Ellen's sister) and Dave Kaphammer.
