Classic Meets Contemporary in this Award-Winning Designer's Garden at 113 Pond St. Osterville Sat. 7/8 & Sun., 7/9 10 AM - 3 PM

Dorrit Kingsbury, owner of Kingsbury Garden Designs, has created her own four season, layered and sculptured garden in Osterville. Designed to wow the senses with elegance and folly, this stately landscape invites both lively gatherings and peaceful respite. Using color as a sculptural element and layers of evergreens for year-round definition and flair, the contrasting textures and forms feel luxurious and inviting. The landscape provides beautiful views from every room in her home and pleasing destinations throughout the garden. Visitors will enjoy the firepit shrouded by cherry trees, the towering topiary arches, the relaxing hydrangea filled garden framing the pool, the chance to settle onto the bench at the end of a garden pathway, and the opportunity to imagine the sunset from the newest garden destination at the front of the property.
