This fall we have planned hybrid sessions for our programming, along with a few Zoom and in-person ONLY programs. If not noted as ZOOM only, we will be offering a few in-person seats while simultaneously on Zoom. Our in-house attendance will be greatly reduced to accommodate the need for extra social distancing. This, of course, may change if further restrictions are required. If restrictions change and we are no longer able to have in-person attendees, all sessions will be presented via Zoom. At the time of this printing we are requiring all patrons, 2 years and older, to wear face masks while inside and while attending programs, regardless of personal vaccination status.

We appreciate your understanding as we work to keep you, your family, our staff and our most vulnerable community members healthy and safe while using the library. We thank you in advance for your cooperation.
